REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

[0001] A certified copy of foreign application CA 2,427,461 has been mailed under separate cover.

[0002] A new Oath of Declaration has been completed and filed.

[0003] The Specification has been redrafted completely and now follows the guidelines set forth regarding the layout and content of an invention's specification. The Abstract has been redrafted.

[0004] The title of the invention has been changed to be more descriptive.

[0005] The title of the invention has been changed to be more descriptive.

[0006] The Examiner has rejected claim 1 as being anticipated by Kwok. The examiner had also objected to claim 1 because it included informalities. Claim 1 has been cancelled. New independent claim 2 now reads:

2. A decorative apparatus usable with a liquid, said decorative apparatus comprising:
- a container for receiving the liquid;
  - an object, said object being substantially buoyant and supportable by the liquid while being at least in part submerged into the liquid;
  - a first magnet mounted to said object, said first magnet defining first magnet first and second magnetic poles having opposed polarities; and
  - a second magnet movable over a predetermined path relatively to said container, said second magnet defining second magnet first and second magnetic poles having opposed polarities;
  - whereby moving said second magnet over said predetermined path modifies a magnetic field present substantially adjacent said first magnet, thereby causing a force onto said object.

None of the limitations of claim 1 are disclosed by Kwok. Indeed, Kwok describes a mechanical device wherein a platform on which a candle is positioned is biased towards an upwardly located position. The device described in Kwok does not include a container for receiving a liquid, an object supportable by a liquid nor two magnets. Furthermore, there is no suggestion in Kwok of using any of these claimed elements. Also, claims 3-20 depend directly or indirectly on claim 1, and as such, include all the limitations of this base claim. In view of the above, the Applicant respectfully submits that claims 2-20 are in allowable form and allowance of these claims is respectfully requested.

Applicant respectfully requests that a timely Notice of Allowance be issued in this case.

Respectfully submitted,

By Nick Boulachanis
